

Transportation Trailblazer

Christine Keville, FCMAA

Then & Now

“WTS is one of the first associations I joined as a young professional and I have never looked back. The friendships that I have made with WTS members over the past two decades are some of my best friends in life – simply priceless!”

Christine Keville is active in many civic and construction industry associations where she has risen to top leadership positions and made significant contributions, often paving the way for women in construction by being the first woman to rise through the ranks into a leadership role. Philanthropy is one of her passions and she has served on the Board of Directors of hospital and academic boards where her efforts have helped bring awareness and raise significant funds for numerous worthy charities. Her annual charitable giving includes, but is not limited to: the Keville/Fortini Radiation Center at the Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital – Plymouth; five annual scholarships to deserving high school and college students; donations to the Toys for Tots program, Pan Mass Challenge, as well as annual pledges to Northeastern University and Wentworth Institute of Technology. Ms. Keville has 30 years of experience in the construction management industry.
