Happy Women’s History Month
My biggest accomplishment in the 14 months I’ve sat in the Commissioner’s seat here at NJDOT is to learn the departments processing so I can become a good advocate for all that needs to be done in New Jersey that is funded and executed by the department.

Women in transportation have a bright future, whether it’s in finance, law, procurement or engineering or executive level positions. The world is their oyster and they should continue to pursue their dreams. But my best advice for women in transportation is to continue to be open minded, to use the skills that come to you naturally as women and be sure you’re always at the table.
