

Karen Schilling is currently the Transportation and Land Use Planning Director for Multnomah County, Oregon where she has worked for the past 13 years. In this role, she develops and implements transportation policy and funding strategies and manages the land use planning program for the rural portions of the County. Prior to working in Oregon, she worked for the Denver Regional Council of Governments in Colorado for 9 years. Schilling holds a Bachelor's degree in Environmental Conservation from the University of Colorado and a Master's in Public Administration from Lewis and Clark College, Oregon. Schilling is serving her second term as Director on the International Board.