

OUR FUTURE WORKFORCE IS DEPENDING ON YOU!

Become a part of WTS-LA's effort to advance women in transportation. Donate now to help young women reach their educational goals and improve the future workforce!

DONATE HERE
TO THE WTS-LA
SCHOLARSHIP FUND TODAY!

WTS-LA awarded Lilly with the 2020 $10,000 Myra L. Frank Memorial Graduate Scholarship.

Meet Lilly Nie. A master's degree candidate at USC's Sol Price School of Public Policy, Nie will receive her urban studies degree in May 2021. Lilly is a USC Presidential Scholar, is the founder and president of the Undergraduate Planning at Price, and was a co-chair of the Asian Pacific Islander Caucus. What is Lilly passionate about?

"As an aspiring transportation planner who is keenly interested in working in the public sector, I am passionate about how cities can leverage transportation technologies to ensure equitable outcomes for all residents."

In 2020, WTS-LA awarded Yerandy with the $5,000 Jacobs Undergraduate Scholarship.

Meet Yerandy Pacheco. A senior studying Urban Planning and Economics, Pacheco will receive her undergraduate degree in May 2021. After graduation, she looks to pursue a master's in city planning. But wherever her advance studies lead, transportation will be an integral component.

"Public transportation plays an integral role within low-income communities. This recognition has deeply influenced my future career goals with transportation, as connectivity and accessibility are imperative for a high-quality life."

WHAT OUR DONORS ARE SAYING

Join our scholarship sponsors which have included companies such as AECOM, BYD, Jacobs, HNTB, PGH Wong, Stantec, ESA, Mott MacDonald, Hill International and WSP; small businesses LKG-CMC and Berg Associates, Inc.; and firms and agencies that have donated to increase current scholarships like SCAG, Fehr & Peers, CM Solutions, Toole Design, Psomas, TY Lin, Sener; and to long-time individual donors like Emilie Gino, Professor James Moore, Robert Frank, Alexandra Spencer and many, many others!

"WSP has been a long-time sponsor of WTS LA scholarships, and for the last several years, we have provided the 'WSP Bright Futures High School Scholarship Award' to an inspiring high school graduate to help them get started in their college career," said Claudette Moody, WSP Assistant Vice President, Policy, Government Relations and Civic Engagement.