WTS Toronto Area Indigenous Student Scholarship

The Indigenous undergraduate student scholarship is open to any enrolled post-secondary school students with indigenous heritage who are pursuing a degree in planning, economics, engineering, political science, environmental science, and other programs that will lead to a career focused on transportation. Students are eligible if they are currently attending an institution in the Greater Toronto and Hamilton Area, including the Guelph, Kitchener and Waterloo areas.

A $2,500 (CAD) scholarship will be awarded to the successful applicant recipient. Awards may be granted to graduate students in the event that there are no qualified undergraduate student candidates.

Selection of the recipient will be made by April 2022, with a presentation of the scholarship in early May 2022. The recipient name and photo will also appear in WTS publications. The successful student will also be invited to attend the WTS Toronto Chapter Annual Event in late October 2022 with any expenses covered by WTS.
